Q. For the past 20 years, I've lived in the vicinity of South Street, between Jay Mills and DeForrest avenues. There are no sidewalks on Jay Mills Avenue where it crosses the unimproved section of South Street, and the weeds along the dirt path are huge. Can something be done soon to improve this area? H. C. L., Long Beach.

A. Yes. In the next few days, city crews will be in the area to chop down the weeds, says John Williams, city administrative assistant. Soon after, workmen will pour asphalt sidewalks along Jay Mills Avenue crossing the unimproved right-of-way of South Street. These sidewalks are temporary, Williams says, and will be removed and replaced with permanent ones when the right of way is improved. The asphalt sidewalks will hook up with permanent concrete sidewalks on each end of the unimproved area.

Q. I enlisted in the United States Army in May, 1919, and was discharged five years later. I recall paying a small sum of money each month to a national soldiers home. I was told at the time I could be admitted to the home in my later years. Can Action Line tell me where this home is, and how I can be admitted? H. H. C., Long Beach.

A. Yes. The U.S. Soldiers Home, the only one in the country, is located in Washington, D. C. Among those eligible to live at the home are veterans with 20 years service, a service-connected disability or service in any war, says Frank Zannoni, assistant contact officer at the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Los Angeles. For an eligibility application, write to the Board of Commissioners, U. S. Soldiers Home, Washington, D. C., 20315.

Q. Is there any danger of being electrocuted if a person answers or talks on the telephone while taking a bath? Mrs. L. M., Lakewood.

A. There's some danger you might get a solid electric shock, says a spokesman for General Telephone. Modern telephones are encased in protective rubber and plastic, but if the insulation cracks or wears thin, you'd get a jolt if you were well-grounded in water. A telephone carries 48 volts on the line at all times, but the circuit is open until you lift the receiver. Then the voltage is approximately 135 volts, the spokesman says. "Although you may never get a shock," the spokesman says, "the best rule is don't use the phone if you're in the water."

Q. I live in a trailer park, and many of my neighbors are elderly and have poor vision. Can you tell me when it's legal to carry a red-tipped cane? Do you have to be totally blind? A. R. H., Long Beach.

A. No, anyone who's legally blind is entitled to use a red-tipped cane, says Mrs. Dorothy Maxwell, secretary for the California Field Services for the Adult Blind. A person is considered legally blind when his better eye with best correction does not exceed 20-200 vision, or if he has a limited field of vision of 20 degrees or less. A user of the red cane has the right-of-way in most cases, Mrs. Maxwell says. Her office helps those persons blind or losing sight adjust to their handicap. Workers teach braille, cane travel and homemaking. For more information, call the main offices at 620-3030.

Q. Can Action Line tell me how to make reservations to sail from Southampton, Eng., to Long Beach on the Queen Mary's last voyage? E. N. D., Long Beach, and others.

A. No definite passenger arrangements have yet been made for the final sailing of the Queen Mary, says John Williams, city administrative assistant. He suggests all interested persons write to the city manager's office to receive information as soon as it's available. There have been many such requests already, so Williams says first come will be first served.

SOUND OFF!

I have a complaint that's been eating away at me for some time. I live alone with my two small children, and I've found that a woman in my circumstances has a hard time getting a substantial, well-paying job. Employers seem very prejudiced when it comes to hiring a woman with preschool children, probably because they're afraid the woman will miss too much work. I have two years of college education and 10 years of office training, yet I've been turned down again and again. It must be because I'm the sole support of my household, because my record shows I've always been dependable, efficient and punctual. I suppose I could go on state aid—I'd probably make more money—but I don't want to depend on others to support my family. I wish more employers would look at each specific case, and not simply dismiss women like me because we're alone and have a young family. Mrs. M. B., Long Beach.

REACTION

Good Heavens! I picked up Action Line a couple days ago and found myself identified as the director of the California State Motor Vehicles Department. Please, I'm only a secretary in the director's office and I don't like to make the headlines this way! All my friends are calling me up and asking about my miraculous "promotion." I tell them grimly it's not true — Verne Orr is still director and I'm still a secretary. Action Line can do some seemingly impossible things, but this is too much! R. B., Los Angeles.

THE ANGUISH OF A MOTHER

Mrs. Robert McLemore, of Columbia, S.C., cries over the prostrate form of her son after the 4-year-old ran into the side of a moving truck. Despite the appearance of things, however, the story had a happy ending. The boy only sustained very minor injuries. The truck wasn't dented.

Rebels Seek Ouster of Congo President

BUKAVU. The Congo (UP)—White mercenaries Friday created a "save the nation" government of the Congo headed by Congolese Col. Leonard Monga. Monga announced at the mercenaries' headquarters in Bukavu that he would give Congolese President Joseph Mobutu just 10 days in which to resign and free former prime minister Moïse Tshombe from captivity in Algiers.

The official Congolese radio station quoted Mobutu as saying he would not deal with the rebels, whom the broadcast described as "these nobodies."

(Congolese Foreign Minister J. M. Bomboko appeared in a letter in the United Nations Security Council for help in defeating the mercenaries.)

Monga is chief of staff to Belgian-born Maj. Jean (Black Jack) Schramme, who commands about 150 white mercenaries and almost 1,000 Katangese soldiers. The soldiers are loyal to the Katanga-born Tshombe, whom Monga once served as chief of staff.

Tshombe has been sentenced to death by Mobutu's regime. His plane was hijacked over the Mediterranean June 30, and he was taken to Algiers where he faces extradition to the Congo.

The rebel forces marched into Bukavu Wednesday after outwitting and outfighting the Congolese army on a 375 mile trek from Kisanangani, where another revolt had been staged after Tshombe's kidnapping. They appeared to be in solid control of the city, which is capital of Kivu Province and lies on the border of the neighboring country of Rwanda.

Pat Brown Backs Burton for Senate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Former Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown Friday endorsed Assemblyman John Burton for the State Senate and said "it's important to the people of California that he win."

Brown, just back from a world tour during which he represented the United States at the coronation of the King of Tonga in the South Pacific, said he would be here campaigning for Burton until Sunday and that "it was a very easy choice" to endorse Burton over Republican Milton Marks.

Head-on Crash Kills 9 Persons

CORINTH, Miss. (UPI)—A high-speed, head-on collision Friday night killed nine persons, including five members of a family en route to a lake near here on a vacation weekend.

Dead were: Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Wadlington of Sledge, Miss., their three daughters, Judy, 13, Jane, 11, Ann, 10; Betty Brown of luka, Miss., and three passengers in the other vehicle, Don Geno, Billy O'Neal and a Preacher Davis, all of Corinth.

U.S. Vessels Aid Crippled Fishing Boat

HONOLULU (AP)—The U.S. Coast Guard said Friday the crew of a Japanese fishing vessel damaged by fire remained aboard the ship despite previous reports all 24 had abandoned ship.

The Coast Guard said the U.S. tanker Shenandoah is at the scene about 200 miles north of Wake Island and is passing medical supplies to the Shoichi Maru No. 28. Latest reports indicate that two crewmen received third-degree burns during the fire that crippled the 138-foot vessel Thursday night and that they are being transferred to the Shenandoah for treatment.

Coast Guard cutter Matagorda has been dispatched to the scene and is expected to arrive about 8 p.m. today.

Enjoy yourselves. It's later on you'll think.

Complete Probe of Race Violence OK'd by Senate

Emphasis of Study Disputed WHO KILLED SISTERS? Scarves Flimsy Link to Slayings

By ART VINSEL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Friday ordered a $150,000 investigation of racial rioting after refusing to adopt a requirement that the inquiry cover the social and economic ingredients of the violence.

Sen. John F. McClellan, D-Ark., the man who will preside over the inquiry, said those items will be covered anyhow.

After a three-hour debate, the Senate voted 36 to 26 against an amendment which would have called specifically for the inclusion of social and economic factors in the riot inquiry. Then it passed the inquiry resolution 59 to 0.

"TAKE OUR word for it," said McClellan, chairman of the permanent investigations subcommittee. "There is nothing related to rioting, unrest, disorders that this committee will not hear."

McClellan has not indicated when a public inquiry might be opened by his committee. He said it will take 8 to 10 new investigators to do the task before the panel and that the inquiry will include a thorough investigation of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

The Senate debate over words really was an argument about emphasis. It echoed discussions during the current judicial committee investigation of rioting.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is pressing the judiciary committee to take a broadened look at social and economic, as well as law enforcement aspects, of racial outbreaks.

KENNEDY TOLD the Senate it is imperative for the body to speak out as a whole on the issue of underlying riot factors.

"We're not only speaking to each other here on the floor," said Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., sponsor of the amendment which would have called for a study of economic and social causes of violence and of community attitudes.

"We're speaking to the country. We're speaking to the white people. We're

A pair of scarves is a flimsy link, but lawmen have little more today to tie up the murders of the Barili sisters as their grieving Altadena parents prepare to bury them.

Investigators hope the two scarves—one of sheer yellow nylon, the other of white rayon with a soft fringe—may lead them to the person or persons who abducted the girls.

The scarves were knotted about the necks of little Robin Barili, 6, and Cecilia Barili, 7, when their bodies were discovered in a vacant lot in Watts.

"There is not one iota of evidence... nothing," said Los Angeles Sheriff's Lt. Norman Hamilton Friday night of the brutal sex slayings.

MEANWHILE Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barili scheduled Roman Catholic services for the girls, who apparently were kidnapped early Wednesday night in the Devil's Gate Dam area.

The rosary will be recited Sunday at 7 p.m. in St. Elizabeth Church, Altadena, with Requiem Mass celebrated there Monday at 9 a.m., and interment following at Resurrection Cemetery.

The bodies—thought momentarily to be discarded dolls by the boy who found them in a weed-grown vacant lot Thursday morning—had been dumped after the deaths.

"They were dead when they were put there," said Lt. Hamilton, while other investigators theorized they may have been taken to a house near the Altadena neighborhood where they lived.

Robin and Cecilia were last seen alive about 3 p.m. Wednesday by a family in the foothill community now being combed by sheriff's deputies.

WHEN FOUND in the southeast Los Angeles area, 25 miles from their hometown, each was wearing only a pullover shirt. Their capris and panties are still missing.

Robin—whose full name was Roberta Ann—was garroted with the 28-inch square imported yellow scarf, while Cecilia was killed with the unmarked 40-inch man's scarf, of white rayon.

A bloodhound has been used for two nights to trace the Barili girls' fatal path in their final hours, but it lost the scent on a lonely road leading to Devil's Gate Dam.

The only other possible clues at the moment are eight beer cans found near the bodies, plus several plaster casts taken of tire tracks and footprints around tracks and footprints around the scene.

Teen-Ager Trapped in a Well

LENORE, W. Va. (AP)—A 15-year-old boy, trapped 14 feet below ground for more than seven hours Friday in a water well caving in, begged his rescuers for a drink of water as they carefully tried to pull him to safety.

"Please, get me a drink of water, please get me out of here," pleaded Leonard Royce, still trapped after midnight as rescuers labored with shovels and their bare hands to dig him free.

He was given a teacup of water at 12:20 a.m.

Boyce was trapped by rock and earth at 5:15 p.m. after he lowered himself into the well to inspect its stone walls for cleaning. The well is at nearby Parsley's Bottom, in the front yard of a house owned by Willard Howell.

An estimated 150 onlookers were held back from the well as rescuers painstakingly dug a trench angled to extend below Boyce's legs so he could be pulled out feet first.

Boyce, complaining of being cold, was trapped upright. His head was barely visible.

End-the-War Conference Set for L.A. TORCH HELD HIGH Hippies Get Hitched Miss Liberty Invited

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A two-day antiwar conference will be held Aug. 19-20 at California State College, Los Angeles, it was announced Friday.

John Gray of the June 23rd Movement, said the "Southern California Conference to End the War in Vietnam" would be designed to "bring together people from every point of view in the antiwar movement." Gray said it is hoped the conference will consider structuring a more unified peace movement which would reach labor and minority groups.

NEW YORK (AP)—With the Statue of Liberty for a witness and the music of foghorns drifting over salt air, two mod sweethearts were married Friday on a tugboat in New York Harbor.

The bride, groom and some 25 guests trooped aboard the 252-ton tug in Brooklyn and steamed out to a point directly in front of the statue for the ceremony performed by Civil Court Judge Fred G. Morritt.

In keeping with "mod" fashion, there was no flower girl. Instead, a balloon girl released her "bouquet" into the air when the judge pronounced the couple man and wife.

The bride, Susan Patner, 21, a receptionist at a show business agency, wore a modest miniwedding gown of antique brocade lace.

Her long, artificial nails had been painted in psychedelic colors by her groom, Michael Horn, 24, a mod music composer and free-lance artist.

The couple, both natives of Chicago, will be married again in their home city at a formal Jewish ceremony.

Guerrillas Overrun S. Viet Army Base

Combined News Services

DANANG, Vietnam — Viet Cong guerrillas made coordinated attacks on four Vietnamese army compounds in Quang Tri Province early today and in one they penetrated the defense line and inflicted heavy casualties to the defenders. The heaviest assault fell on the Trieu Phong compound two miles northwest of Quang Tri City. The force of some 100 Vietnamese soldiers suffered heavy casualties repulsing the attack. Two Australian army advisors to the unit were wounded.

U.S. Air Force jets bombed Hanoi's Doumer Bridge for the first time Friday and the U.S. Command said four direct hits dropped the center span into the Red River. The bridge is a vital link in traffic between the North Vietnamese capital and Red China. Other Air Force and Navy warplanes hit supply routes, bridges and anti-aircraft gun and missile sites in North Vietnam Friday. No aircraft were reported lost despite heavy flak and surface-to-air missile fire. No major ground fighting was announced by the U.S. Command.

Chinese Raid Hong Kong

HONG KONG — A Red Chinese mob swarmed across the Hong Kong border at Sha Tau Kok village today, the third straight day of incidents along the 17-mile frontier between the British enclave and Red China. Reports from the village said some of the Chinese were scaling ladders and entering upper stories of buildings on the Hong Kong side despite tear gas fired by border police and British troops and loudspeaker warnings that groups attacking persons or installations on British territory would be shot.

Russ Protest Ship Seizure

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union charged Friday that Red Chinese authorities are holding the Soviet ship "Svirsk" in Dairen and have "captured the ship's captain." A strong protest note from the Foreign Ministry, handed to the Chinese charge d'affaires here, accused Peking of "a planned provocation intended to further complicate" already-strained Soviet-Chinese relations.

Expo Motel Fraud Charged

WASHINGTON — Postal officials said Friday they have issued a fraud order against a Montreal motel and that other Canadian hostilities are under investigation on grounds they are "duping and fleecing" Americans attending Expo 67. The order stops delivery of mail to the motel from the U.S. and thereby cuts it off from the advance payments it has required for lodging. The motel charges $26 a day.

Nuclear Pact Talks Resume

WASHINGTON — President Johnson announced the Soviet Union has called the U.S.'s chief disarmament negotiator back to Geneva to complete spade-work on a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons. Ambassador William C. Foster will return to Geneva Sunday. He said the Soviets, after conferring with their Geneva negotiator, Alexei Roshchin, sent him an urgent message asking him back to the bargaining table.

5-Man Jury Picked for Andrews Trial

NEW ORLEANS — A jury of five was seated Friday for the perjury trial of Dean Andrews, the first man to be tried as a result of Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's controversial Kennedy assassination probe. Andrews, a 44-year-old lawyer who figured in the Warren Report, rubbed his palms nervously. "Now for the crunch," he said. Andrews is charged with lying to the Orleans Parish grand jury investigating an alleged conspiracy to kill President John F. Kennedy, who was assassinated in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. The jury was out of the tiny courtroom for much of the afternoon while lawyers wrangled over the admissibility of evidence.

War Call Issued

LAGOS, Nigeria — Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, head of Nigeria's federal government, ordered all-out war Friday against the breakaway eastern region of Biafra. Britain and the Soviet Union were reported sending advisers and military aid.

But the rebel leader, Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, declared in a radio broadcast heard in Lagos that his forces were "in a position to launch a decisive offensive against the enemy to bring the war to an end." He vowed Biafra would neither negotiate nor surrender.

Until now, the federal government had called the fight against Biafra a "police action." But Gowon told his troops Friday to undertake full-scale action following rebel bombing raids on federal Nigeria and what Gowon called "acts of terrorism."

WASHINGTON — The U.S. and Australia are cooperating in a joint effort to build a sophisticated defense project to eavesdrop on Soviet spy satellites, it was learned Friday. The facility, located 1,000 miles in the Australian desert near the town of Alice Springs, is scheduled to be completed by 1967 and house a large number of U.S. scientists. U.S. officials admitted privately that the project was a "ferret" installation to detect radar, electro-magnetic radiation and other electronic impulses coming from Russian satellites.

Rail Mediators Give Up

WASHINGTON — Presidential mediators Friday gave up hope for a voluntary agreement and set machinery in motion for a compulsory settlement of the national railroad labor dispute. Hearings which could lead to a compulsory settlement have been tentatively scheduled to start Aug. 23.

Rain, Tornadoes Strike

Heavy rains and tornados struck coastal areas from the Carolinas to Texas Friday. Eastern North Carolina was hard hit with rains. New Bern received 2.75 inches during a six-hour period, while Wilmington was drenched with 2.20 inches. Fort Myers, Fla., got the worst of it with 3 inches in six hours. Tornadoes were sighted northwest of Corpus Christi, Tex.; northwest of Melbourne, Fla., and south of Daytona Beach, Fla.

Ferry Aground; 300 Saved

ALERT BAY, B.C. — Nearly 300 persons, most of them American tourists, were rescued Friday from a Canadian ferry that ran aground 3 1/2 miles from this Vancouver Island community. Passengers, many of them in night clothes, scrambled into lifeboats when the Queen of Prince Rupert, $6.5-million flagship of the British Columbia government-owned fleet, ran up on a reef in Broughton Strait.

Hippies Turn to New Drug

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE, N.J. (AP) — A new hippie drug, said to stimulate sexual desire and potency, is circulating among youngsters on the South Jersey shore, a health official disclosed Friday. Raymond A. Neff, public health coordinator for Cape May County, said the little known drug is "68." The hippies call it "SJ" or sex juice, Neff added.

Suez Traffic Suspended

Yugoslav President Tito met President Gamal Abdel Nasser in Cairo Friday for talks aimed at winning a Middle East settlement. At the United Nations, Secretary General Thant announced a one-month suspension of boat traffic on the Suez Canal as a step toward defusing the explosive situation along the cease-fire line there. The Tito-Nasser talks were underscored by a warning from a prominent Cairo editor that only "a miracle" can prevent Egypt from resuming hostilities to free Arab territory seized by Israel in the six-day June war.

Mau Mau Taunts Mayor Lindsay

Combined News Services

New York, Mayor John V. Lindsay made a tour of central Harlem Friday night that began with angry shouts, but ended with cheers and applause.

At the first stop, Frank's Restaurant, Lindsay's desire to sip a drink in the first sidewalk cafe in Harlem was blocked by three members of the Mau Mau society who shouted "We want Africa in Harlem, not Paris."

The three men, in African garb, followed the mayor into the restaurant and shouted, "We're going to burn this place down and you too."

Two Negro police inspectors tried to calm the men, but were told, "The lowest thing in the world is a black cop."

The three men eventually were ejected from the restaurant, and began to speak to a crowd of about 200 persons gathered on the sidewalk.

Lindsay was greeted warmly at the other stops in his tour.

JAIL MUSLIM

Michael de Freitas, chief of Britain's Black Power movement, was taken into court in London Friday on a charge of stirring up race hatred.

De Freitas, 34, is the head of Britain's black Muslims, whose avowed followers are believed to number no more than a few hundred. He was accused under a two-year-old race relations act used mostly against white agitators.

De Freitas, who says his ideas have been borrowed from Malcolm X, the late American Black Muslim spokesman, said in court he has changed his name legally to Michael Abdul Malik.

Last month, De Freitas was host to Black Power advocate Stokely Carmichael, like De Freitas a native of Trinidad, during Carmichael's trip from the U.S. to Cuba.

VIET VOTE

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., highly critical of the administration for its policies in Vietnam, plans to take his antiwar campaign to the American people. He proposes a nationwide referendum of whether the fighting should continue.

King said 26,000 volunteers already are at work on the project in communities throughout the nation.

ESTATE PLEA

Magda Gabor Gallucci, eldest of the ageless Gabor sisters, has petitioned a New York court for the right to the widow's share, in cash of her late third husband's $1.6-million estate rather than the trust fund he willed her.

Her contractor husband, Arthur Gallucci, died last January. Under New York law, widows are entitled to the first $10,000 of an estate and one third of what is left after debts and taxes are paid.

Gallucci left a gross estate of $3.6 million but debts, administration expenses and inheritance taxes reduced it to $1.6 million. He left one half the estate in trust to his widow and the other half in trust to a brother and nephew. The income to go to them for life. Mrs. Gallucci also got $25,000 in cash.

Arraignment Date Set for Attack on Airman

A Corona del Mar business promoter, accused of attacking the pilot of a small plane, over Catalina, faces arraignment late this month in Long Beach.

Avalon Justice Court Judge Ernest Windle ruled Friday, following a preliminary hearing, that there is sufficient evidence of attempted murder and assault with intent to commit murder.

John M. Eickmeier, 54, of 1907 Altura Drive, Corona del Mar, will be arraigned Aug. 25 in Long Beach Superior Court, Department E. He remains in custody in lieu of $25,000 bond.

The sandy-haired suspect, who sat through his hearing impassively, is accused of trying to kill his ex-wife, Mrs. Evelyn I. Rooker, 42, of 2212 College Ave., Costa Mesa, and pilot John Woods, 41, of 4433 Lancewood Way, Irvine, in the Aug. 3 incident.

Woods testified Friday that he thought he had been in a collision with another plane when he was slugged in the head with a 40-ounce hammer, while flying at 2,500 feet.

Dazed and blood-splattered, Woods pulled the Torbet Aircraft Cessna Skyhawk out of a dive only 100 feet above the channel swells.

Woods testified Eickmeier slugged him again, then choked him, as the suspect's remarried wife wrestled with the assailant, yelling "Think of our daughters, think of our daughters!"

No motive has been set forth in the case, but it is reported that Eickmeier was despondent over financial setbacks.

His daughters, aged 11 and 15, would have collected insurance benefits in event of their parents' deaths by "accidents," according to Mrs. Rooker's testimony Friday.

Eickmeier, who refuses to discuss the matter, was subdued and the injured pilot, a finger smashed by a hammer blow, landed the craft at Catalina Airport.

Sheriff's deputies seized Eickmeier as Woods, who nearly slammed into the sheer bluff approach to the island-top strip, staggered and collapsed on the grass.

The victim was rescued from Hoag Memorial Hospital in Newport Beach Thursday, one week after the nightmarish experience — of a kind he said he had always feared.

Iowans Should Feel at Home in L.B. Today

It will be more like Iowa in Long Beach than in Iowa today for the 62nd annual Iowa Picnic.

The weatherman promises clear skies, with temperatures in the low 90s and midday humidity about 65 per cent — typical of Iowa's hot, sticky summers.

In Iowa today, it will be 80 to 85, with humidity "much less than usual," according to the Weather Bureau. More than 6,000 transplanted Iowans are expected to attend the picnic in Recreation Park, starting with registration at 11 a.m., a picnic lunch at noon and a concert by the Long Beach Municipal Band at 12:45 p.m.

Mayor Edwin W. Wade and Assemblymen Michael Cullen and James Hayes are scheduled to participate in the program.

IN LIEU OF . . .

Sandy Hilder, the marriage-minded Australian miss who tried to stow away in the admiral's quarters of a U.S. Navy ship so she could join her Long Beach-based, Coast Guard boyfriend, flew home alone Friday — but the 20-year-old blonde was "accompanied" by a giant stuffed souvenir of her American visit. Though she would have rather had boyfriend Bernard (Bud) Brewer join her, it was not possible. He made clear earlier his opposition to marriage and, besides, he was in San Diego undergoing additional training.

Undercover Man Loses Law Suit

William Wayne Wagner, who shot and killed two men while acting as an undercover informer for Santa Ana police, does not have valid grounds for a lawsuit against Police Chief Edward J. Allen, Santa Ana Superior Judge Herbert L. Herlands ruled Friday.

But, the court ruled, Wagner can have 30 days' time to amend the lawsuit if he wishes to pursue the claim for $5,000 for alleged loss of earnings, the backlash of the sensational case.

WAGNER, 30, was a bookkeeper in Santa Ana when he gunned down Morris M. Lipsius, 51, and Donald MacMillan, 54, in a Santa Ana motel on May 23, 1966.

He claimed Lipsius intended to rob MacMillan and pulled a weapon on him, so Wagner said he fired at Lipsius. One bullet accidentally killed MacMillan, he claimed.

Special Costs Worry Orange County Cities

By BOB GEIVET

Cities of Orange County are vitally concerned with five of the 16 charges proposed to be made by the county for special services, the Orange County League of Cities reported Friday.

Dean E. Shull, La Habra councilman who chairs a committee to study the county proposals, said the league's recommendations will be given to county supervisors Aug. 22.

Major item is a proposal that charges of $2 per ton be levied on trash handled by the county's three trash-transfer station to yield an estimated $825,000 per year.

All the charges the county proposes to make would yield an estimated $2.7 million annually, and most of them would be applied to relieve the current fiscal year budget.

City Manager William Cornett of Fullerton, who chaired a group studying the trash-disposal charges, said the "proposal is premature and lacks in-depth planning." He recommended it be held for further study.

Keith Murdoch, city manager of Anaheim, was chairman of a subcommittee to study general charges and space utilization. He recommended charges totaling $318,000

"providing savings to the general fund reflect an equivalent reduction in the general tax levy."

Shull headed a subcommittee studying costs of keeping city prisoners in Orange County Jail, and conceded that "the basic cost distribution may need review."

What the county proposes in higher daily-care charges would yield only $5,500 additional this year.

City Administrator James Smith of Los Alamitos recommended user charges for the county's pistol range, where officers from 11 police departments practice marksmanship regularly.

U.S. Funds Acceptance City Choice

Municipalities of Orange County should decide for themselves whether to accept federal grants, in the opinion of the Orange County League of Cities.

The league made public its opinion Friday in response to a plea from the Garden Grove City Council that the organization go on record as opposing government grants.

Mayor George E. Honold of Garden Grove, who asked for the league statement, said his council voted 3 to 2 to reject all federal aid. He also is president of the county league, but he took no part in the league's deliberations deciding its policy.

Honold has been nominated to succeed himself as league president.

Reelection of vice president Dean E. Shull Jr. of La Habra and of Duane Winters of Fullerton, delegate to the League of California Cities, also will be recommended to the county league executive board at its next meeting, Sept. 14, in Orange.

CHURCH TO PARADE FOR BIBLE SCHOOL

The Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, 3331 Palo Verde Ave., will launch its vacation Bible school today with a parade beginning at 10 a.m. at the church.

Marchers will wind their way through surrounding streets in the Los Altos neighborhood.

Two clowns will be on hand to pass balloons to youngsters.

Bible school starts officially on Monday for five days. It is open to area children, 5 years to junior high school age.

A CHANGE FROM '66 FESTIVAL

Boil Still Festers at Watts, But White Man is Welcome

By DAVID SHAW

Little Negro children stalked the streets of Watts last August.

They were only 8 or 10 years old, most of them, but they were already professional panhandlers.

"Gimme a dime so I can call my mother," many of them begged the few white men walking around the Watts Summer Festival.

"Gimme a nickel for candy."
"Gimme a flashlight."
"Lemme have your camera."
"Loan me a dollar."

THEY WEREN'T asking you. They were telling you. Behind every demand was an implied "or else" — a bitter, resentful, defiant "or else" that would have been laughable in children so young and frail had it not been accompanied by the sneers and snarls of hate and the memories of Watts, 1965.

Everywhere you walked during the 1966 festival, you saw and felt reminders of the riot — and of the children's attitude.

The white man was not welcome. If he came, the Negro glared at him, jostled him, challenged him to knock the chip of hostility off his sturdy shoulder.

The atmosphere was tense, charged with animosity. The Negroes even glowered and grumbled at each other.

That was the Watts Summer Festival, 1966 — an angry boil festering beneath a thin, flaky coat of carnival antiseptic.

THE BOIL is still festering at the Watts Summer Festival, 1967. But the antiseptic is almost heavy enough to cover it.

The white man is welcome. The Negro may hate the white man who stayed home in suburbia — who cheered the death of Malcolm X and urged his congressman to vote for the anti-riot bill. But the Negro is smiling at the white man — and at the other Negroes — at the 1967 festival.

The little children are still on the streets. They're still pestering the passers-by. But they're not saying, "Gimme (or else)." They're saying, "Like to buy a program (or a pin or a T-shirt or a souvenir map or a ticket to a show or...)"

They're selling, not begging; asking, not demanding.

Throughout the United States, Black Power is more potent — and more prevalent — this year than last. Riots are more frequent — and more disastrous — this year than last.

BUT THE atmosphere in Watts, at least during the week-long summer festival that concludes with jazz concerts tonight and tomorrow, is far less ominous, far less turbulent.

Festival officials, who welcomed Ron Karenga to use their podium for a virulent antiwhite tirade at the 1966 festival, are anxious to point out, at the 1967 festival, that he is in no way affiliated with them.

Karenga's Afro-American US and several other militant Negro groups are sponsoring a Black Congress freedom rally at the US temple Sunday. H. Rap Brown, director of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), will speak.

"That's got nothing to do with us," a festival spokesman insisted. "We're having enough trouble getting white people to come to the festival. If Brown were here, even the Negroes would stay home."

That's the Watts Summer Festival, 1967.

Fire Negro 'Hate Whitey' School Head Over Gets Barred in Tennessee

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —

The directors of the Community Alert Patrol Friday voted to remove Louis J. Gothard as chairman because of his remarks implying that CAP was sponsoring Black Power advocate H. Rap Brown at a rally here Sunday.

Brown, free on bail after he was charged with inciting a riot and "counseling and procuring the burning of a school" in Cambridge, Md., will be keynote speaker at the rally commemorating the deaths of 34 persons in the Watts rioting two years ago.

CAP acting chairman J. W. Spriggs said, "Gothard has repeatedly made unauthorized public statements as a spokesman for our organization without our consent or approval."

"MR. GOTHARD has every right to speak for himself on any issue he chooses. But he has no right to speak for us without our consent," Spriggs said. "Under the circumstances, we consider his resignation a necessary and clarifying act."

CAP was formed to monitor police behavior in the Negro community and was later expanded to deal with the full scope of police-community relations.

Gothard blamed his dismissal on a "simple misunderstanding," saying he was "speaking for the black congress" when he called a news conference for Brown.

"When you wear more than one hat in the community things like this can happen," he said.

Ship Waste Pollution Law Eyed

From Our National Bureau
WASHINGTON — A bill to control the discharge of wastes from ships was presented to Congress Friday by the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration.

The agency said in an accompanying report that pollution from boats is a "growing and significant" problem.

Major sources of ship-strewn pollution are sewage, garbage and ballast and bilge water, said the agency.

The proposed bill would establish regulations for disposal of waste from ships in U.S. navigable waters and would provide a maximum penalty of $2,500 or a year's imprisonment.

The bill also would provide a penalty of $10,000 for the owner of a vessel violating the regulations.

Poker Ban Upheld

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Irwindale's ban on poker playing was upheld Friday by Superior Court Judge Ralph H. Nutter, who rejected a suit to force the city council to pass a law permitting draw poker or to put the issue on the ballot. The suit was filed by Monica Lopez.

Reagan Signs Credit, Fire, 13 Other Bills

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan's office announced Friday he has signed the following bills:

SANITARY — Raises top daily pay of sanitary district board member from $25 to $40, and monthly top from $75 to $120; SB 180, Miller, D-Martinez.

MEASLES — Requires all public and private school pupils to be immunized against measles prior to first admission in schools; SB 288, Cologne, R-Indio.

FINANCE — Makes it a felony for any officer, director or employee of a financial institution to receive anything of value for procuring a loan or extension of credit for any person; SB 538, Whetmore, R-La Habra.

FIRE — Bars use of carbon tetrachloride, chlorobromomethane or menthyl bromide as an agent in fire extinguisher; SB 683, Cusanovich, R-Van Nuys.

MINORS — Provides that for all legal purposes, except buying alcohol, married minors between 18 and 21 have reached the age of majority; SB 820, Grunsky, R-Watsonville.

ESTATE — Raises broker real estate license fee from $65 to $75 and salesman fee from $40 to $50 effective Jan. 2; SB 886, Burns, D-Fresno.

VEHICLES — Makes it unlawful and cause for disciplinary action for motor vehicle sales man to engage in false advertising, make false charges for fees or pay fees to unlicensed individual or act as dealer; SB 1048, Carrell, D-San Fernando.

CHILDREN — Lets officers of school districts, principals or doctors treat children hurt or ill during regular school hours without liability for reasonable treatment when parents can't be notified; SB 1115, Grundky.

ABANDONED — Sets up procedures letting cities and counties dispose of abandoned vehicles; AB 66, Chappie, R-Cool.

CREDIT — Makes various changes in credit union regulations; AB 564, Moretti, D-Van Nuys.

YOUTH — Lets youth authority and counties set up work furlough programs for juveniles; AB 1096, Biddle, R-Riverside.

WITNESS — Makes it a crime to willfully try to prevent actual or potential witness from testifying; AB 2277, Moorhead, R-Glendale.

Emphasis of Study Debated

speaking to the Negro people.

"Why not put in one of the basic causes which brought this to fruition — one which we helped cause?"

"Why not put all of them in?" McClellan replied. He said if the Senate wanted a detailed listing, it also might include the influence of Communists or of Negro militants like H. Rap Brown on city riots.

COOPER SAID his amendment had been challenged on grounds it would condone rioting. He said that is not so.

But Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., charged it would have constituted a Senate declaration "that the causes of riots are poverty, slums, unemployment, the ghettos."

Byrd said he does not consider these are the causes of riots, although they may be factors.

The resolution authorizes McClellan's panel to investigate riots, violent disturbances, vandalism, criminal and civil disorder, insurrection, their causes and potential preventive measures, both immediate and long range.

McClellan said that wording assures a full investigation of all questions involved.

"We cannot feel that the Liberation School is employing the methods which would achieve this necessary end..."

TEEN Action Line

Where the answer is!

Q. Before I graduated from Wilson High School last June, I was a member of the National Honor Society. I applied for a society pin, but so far haven't received one. Can Teen Action Line tell me how to get a pin? T.D., Long Beach.

A. Yes. With help from Harland Eslinger, Wilson summer session principal, we learned that Bill Beck, spring semester society president, is now contacting former members of the organization to give them pins. Eslinger explains the pins were issued late in the school year and most students were out of class before Beck could contact them. He says Beck has your name and will be calling you.

Q. I'm Dutch and people keep asking me to explain the term "Dutch treat." I don't have the slightest idea what it means. Can you tell me? R.T., Bellflower.

A. Sure. Today the term usually means each member of a group pays for himself — if you "go Dutch" on a date, the girl pays for herself. With an assist from the Long Beach Public Library, TEEN ACTION LINE learned that during the middle 1600s, the Netherlands and England engaged in a series of naval battles, sparked mainly by England's jealousy of Dutch commercial superiority. It was in this period that the English originated such scornful phrases as "Dutch treat," meaning no treat since each paid his own way. Others included "Dutch bargain" — a one-sided bargain — and "Dutch luck," meaning undeserved good fortune.

Aid to A Teener, or Society's Woes

Q. I've read a couple of Washington Irving's books, and I'm impressed with his writing. I'd like to see a picture of him, but can't seem to find one. Can you give me any clues? R.L.R., Lakewood.

A. We'll do better than that. Catherine Thornton, assistant public relations officer for the Sleepy Hollow Restorations in Tarrytown, N.Y., has sent us a glossy photo of a painting of Irving, a brochure on his restored home, Sunnyside, and information about his life. We're forwarding them to you. Rose Cregan, executive secretary of the Sleepy Hollow Chamber of Commerce, Tarrytown, is also sending you a packet of information. Irving, sometimes called the "father of American literature," was born in New York in 1783. His most popular work is "The Sketch Book of Geoffrey Crayon, Gent.," which includes his three famous short stories — "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow," "Rip Van Winkle" and "The Spectre Bridegroom."

Q. I'm 12 years old and my father and I are interested in sailplaning. Can Teen Action Line provide information on the sport, and tell us about some sailplaning clubs we can join? G.H., Long Beach.

A. Off we go! Richard Miller, former editor of "Soaring," official publication of the Soaring Society of America, P.O. Box 66071, Los Angeles 90066, is sending you up-to-date information on soaring and gliding aircraft. You'll receive two photos of gliders in action, requirements for club membership, glider pilot certificates, a list of books on gliding and other information.

Q. In June my friend and I each sent $50 to the Colorado State Department of Fish and Game to become eligible for a cow elk hunting license drawing. We thought if we weren't chosen, we'd get our money back. But after the drawing, we received bull elk licenses, which we don't want. Can you help us find out what to do to get our money back? D.S., Long Beach.

A. Yes. Paul Schaub, in charge of Colorado Fish and Game drawings, says you were supposed to make your cow elk license application for one of seven specific areas and if you weren't chosen, you'd get a refund. Since you weren't specific, you were automatically sent the bull elk license. But because you misunderstood the agreement, Schaub says he'll try to help you work something out. Write him at the Department of Fish and Game, Denver, Colo., or call him at 303-825-1192, ext. 56. Mention ACTION LINE.

Q. Does the Long Beach Post Office have information about different rates for mail delivery, and is there any way I can find out zip codes for the entire country? S.P., Long Beach.

A. Yes on both counts. The Long Beach Post Office has a pamphlet giving information on mailing prices, including weights, parcel post, special delivery and airmail, which we're sending you. For a zip code directory, send $7 to the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

SOUND OFF!

I'd like to add my sound-off to the opinions in the press and radio about hippies. I'm a 16-year-old hippie, and already I've seen enough hate to last me for years. That hate should be directed to those whose philosophy is love is insane, but many do it. Civilization is crumbling if we need to hate and kill to survive and progress. Just the same, hippies don't force others into their way of life and they don't want to be forced themselves. We simply want to be accepted for what we are — with tolerance. Nearly 2,000 years ago, a good man was crucified for preaching love. Hasn't the world learned anything? V. H., Long Beach.

REACTION

I agree completely with J.K.B. of Long Beach about good surfing spots in the Southland. I'm a teen-age surfer who doesn't drive, so it's hard for my friends and me to go about 20 miles down the coast where we can surf. Last week I went surfing at 72nd Place in Long Beach — about the only place in the city — and at 11:30 a.m. I was ordered out of the water by a lifeguard because the swimmers were moving in. Why can't the laws be changed so at least a small portion of the beach can be set aside for surfing? G.D., Long Beach.

Officers Break Records Seeking Topless Subject

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (AP) — A desk sergeant put a bulletin on police radio that a young woman, wearing a topless bathing suit, had been reported in the vicinity of a Pascagoula Beach park.

A traffic officer said the bulletin produced an unusually large concentration of city, county and state officers in an "amazingly short time."

An entry in the police log swayed the call and searched the area but could not find the subject. Oh, shucks.

HOME DELIVERY SINCE 1906

NSA TAKES OVER DEBT

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — The National Student Association (NSA) has made a final break with the Central Intelligence Agency, W. Eugene Groves, NSA's president, announced Friday.

Groves said the NSA and the CIA reached an agreement last week whereby the student organization will take over the title and mortgage payments on their national headquarters buildings here.

The agreement dissolves a 15-year, rent-free contract given the NSA in 1955 by the Independence Foundation of Boston, which served as a conduit for CIA funds. The Independence Foundation had leased the buildings from the CIA which held title to them.

The building, according to Groves, was NSA's last tie with the CIA. The intelligence agency had given the student organization approximately $3.3 million since it began financing NSA activities in 1952.

The association is the largest student organization in the country, representing some 2 million students on 350 campuses.

The agreement will have to be ratified by the 20th congress of the NSA, which began Friday in College Park, Md.

THE STUDENT organization moved into the Washington buildings in 1965, whose value at that time was set at $135,000. The CIA made a down payment on the buildings and took out a $70,000 mortgage with the First National Bank of Washington which still holds the mortgage. NSA is taking over the $65,000 unpaid balance on the mortgage, plus insurance and tax payments.

It will cost NSA an estimated $9,000 a year to pay off the building for the remaining 12 years. The money will come from NSA's general operating expenses. The organization's total budget for this year is about $700,000.

The NSA used money from the intelligence agency to finance international student conferences, in an effort to counter Soviet influence among foreign student organizations.

SINCE THE disclosure last February of its relationship to the CIA, NSA has expanded its domestic activities and cut back on international ones. The disclosure of the CIA funding resulted in an increase in membership from about 320 schools to 354. Only two schools disaffiliated with NSA after the disclosure.

Law Stops Child Sale for Adoption

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation making it a crime to sell a child for adoption was signed into law Friday by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The bill by Assemblyman James A. Hayes, R-Long Beach, makes it a misdemeanor to give or receive "money or anything of value" for the placement of an adoption.

The measure would, however, permit adoptive parents to pay the maternity medical expenses of the natural mother "as an act of charity."

Scotland Yard Foils Massive Art Swindle

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard detectives have foiled a massive art swindle plot which could have brought an estimated $70 million worth of forged masterpieces into Britain, the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) reported Friday night.

BBC said police seized nine paintings at London Airport whose face value was an estimated $700,000.

Police of five nations have been working on the case ever since Paris authorities requested the help of the Interpol International Police Agency a year ago in cracking what appeared to be an international gang of art swindlers, BBC said.

Fumes Chase Hundreds From Anaheim Plant

Several hundred employees at Interstate Engineering Co. in Anaheim were evacuated by firemen Friday afternoon when phosphate ester fumes billowed from a nearby plant.

Earlier Friday, seven Los Angeles Fire Department units were called to an East Wilmington acid disposal pit when fumes were reported south of Pacific Coast Highway and east of Terminal Island Freeway. The reddish-brown haze may have resulted from mixture of chemicals at a 20-by-20-foot pit owned by Basin By-Products Co.

In the Anaheim incident,

E. T. Kocher, manager of Nelco Chemical Co., 400 E. Vermont Ave., said his chemists were experimenting with the phosphate substance when it spilled out of a vat and seeped into the Interstate plant, 350 feet away, through air-conditioning ducts.

Battalion Chief Robert Brunot told Interstate employees to leave the plant, and posted men with bullhorns around the area, warning passersby to stay away. Dozens of nearby residents and employees at other plants evacuated of their own volition, he said.

The fumes were not toxic, Brunot said, "but they could irritate the eyes and nasal passages." No injuries were reported.

AREA GIs KILLED

Two Orange County servicemen were killed in Vietnam action, the Defense Department announced Friday.

Lance Cpl. Robert Biscailuz, 21, was killed when his aircraft, on a rescue mission, crashed several miles northwest of the Dong Hai Base. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Biscailuz, 14892 Jefferson St., Midway City.

The second victim was Army Spec. 4 Michael J. Hotchkiss, home address listed as 31919 Street of Violet Lantern, Dana Point.

HIGH-SPEED CHASE

Two young men are being held in Long Beach City Jail after being captured following a high-speed chase from the scene of a robbery early Friday. The car they were using was struck by several police bullets during the pursuit, officers said.

Booked for investigation of armed robbery were Donald R. Satcher, 19 of 1915 Lime Ave., Apt. 2, and Calvin Parker, 20 of 2066

Lewis Ave.

Police said the holdup occurred at the Golden Star Drive-in, 1600 W. Pacific Coast Highway, where James Katsanevas, 35, the owner, and his wife, Josephine, 28, a waitress, were forced to turn over $89.85 to a man wearing a trenchcoat, who fled in a car with an accomplice.

BUSY TOLL BRIDGE

July was a record-breaking month for the state-owned Vincent Thomas Bridge, which registered a total of 460,993 toll-paying cars—25,984 more than in June. This was up 12 per cent over the July 1966 figure.

City Looks for Teens Who Tinker

High school graduates who consider themselves experts at tinkering with automobile engines—or even non-graduates, if their experience warrants—are being sought for city jobs as auto mechanics.

The Long Beach Civil Service Board said Friday it badly needs several auto mechanics. The jobs pay $564 to $696 monthly.

Applications may be filed through Aug. 22, and a test will be conducted in the Veterans Memorial Building Monday, Aug. 28, at 8 a.m.

The Civil Service Board said it also is seeking applicants for positions as accountant with the city, but will accept these job bids through Oct. 26. The position pays $594 to $837 monthly.

Application forms and further information may be obtained from the Civil Service Board, Room 332, Municipal Utilities Building, 215 W. Broadway.

New Librarian in Santa Fe Springs Named

Mrs. Ruth Grams will become city librarian in Santa Fe Springs, replacing her boss, Oscar Smaalders who is resigning to accept a new post in Stanislaus County.

She will begin her duties Sept. 15. A library employee for the past four years, Mrs. Grams has been instrumental in expanding the children's program.

In his new position, Smaalders will supervise the operation of 17 branch libraries in Stanislaus County. He has served with the Santa Fe Springs library since 1960.

Oil Tax Breaks Run Public Dry

WASHINGTON — Instead of tacking 10 per cent extra to everyone's tax bill, as President Johnson wants to do, Congress could grant a 10 per cent reduction and still raise enough money to finance the Vietnam war.

This financial miracle could be accomplished, according to Treasury Department experts, simply by closing the tax loopholes.

Ex-Senator Paul Douglas, who fought a lonely battle against tax loopholes for 18 years in the Senate, has said that income taxes actually could be cut in half if the loopholes were plugged up.

Our tax structure is riddled with loopholes, some bullet-hole size, some port-hole size. But the most gaping loophole, big enough to drive an oil truck through, is the 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance.

The revenue that seeps through the smaller loopholes and gushes through the oil loophole must be made up by less privileged taxpayers. They are now being asked to pay an additional 10 per cent for guns, tanks and planes, while the oil millionaires spend their share on Cadillacs, caviar and furs. Douglas claims to know one oil millionaire who in 1964 paid less income tax than did a $55-a-week scrubwoman.

The oil depletion allowance is a legalized tax evasion scheme permitting producers to write off 27½ per cent of their oil and gas income. The Treasury Department loses an estimated $2.5 billion each year from this great oil seepage.

As justification, the oil industry argues that there is only so much oil in the ground, and the men who pump it out should get a tax break for running their holes dry.

The 27½ per cent allowance has nothing to do with costs and bears absolutely no relation to the amount of oil depleted. The producers can go on taking the tax write-off until their wells dry up. For the average well, they wind up deducting 19 times the original cost.

There is also nothing sacred about the 27½ per cent figure, despite the reverence in which it is held on Capitol Hill. It was a compromise between the 25 per cent recommended by the House and the 30 per cent favored by the Senate when the oil depletion allowance was first established in 1926.

The appearance of this enticing tax advantage brought other lobbyists swarming over Capitol Hill. Rather than plug the dike, Congress obligingly drilled dozens of new holes.

Now almost 100 minerals get some depletion allowance. Among them are bismuth, clam shells, clay, coal, gravel, lignite, limestone, mica, rock asphalt, sand, shale, soapstone and vermiculite.

Almost as wondrous as the oil depletion allowance are the drilling and development deductions —

Aid to Fiat Forbidden by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted Friday to expand the Export-Import Bank's lending authority after forbidding it to finance purchase in the United States of machine tools for an automobile plant in Russia.

It adopted by a voice vote an amendment by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., barring the Ex-Im Bank from aiding the Fiat automobile company of Italy in the purchase of $50 million of U.S. equipment for a plant Fiat is building in the Soviet Union.

President Johnson had endorsed the Fiat auto deal. The bill's main provisions would:

- Extend the life of the bank for five years, to June 30, 1973.
- Increase the limitation on its loans, guarantees and insurance permitted to be outstanding at any one time from $9 billion to $13.5 billion.
- Boost the bank's authority to issue export credit insurance and guarantees from $2 billion to $3.5 billion.
- Prohibit bank financing of exports to Communist countries, either through directly or through third countries, but allow the President to waive this if he finds a transaction to be in the national interest.
- Prohibit financing of exports, for the duration of the Vietnam war, to any country which trades with North Vietnam.
- State congressional policy that the bank should not finance U.S. arms sales to poor countries, unless the President determines such shipments to be in the national interest.
- Ban financing of any U.S. product designed for an auto plant in the Soviet Union.
- Change the name of the bank, first established in 1934, from the Export-Import Bank of Washington to the Export-Import Bank of the United States.

The legislation goes now to the House where a similar bill, lacking the major restrictions, has cleared the Banking Committee.

Romney's Backers at 'Summit Meet'

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (UPI) — Two Republican governors and an ex-governor will huddle with Michigan Gov. George Romney this weekend in a political "summit meeting," it was announced Friday.

A Romney aide said Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and John Chafee of Rhode Island, plus William Scranton, ex-governor of Pennsylvania, will meet with Romney on this island in the Straits of Mackinac.

"In effect, it's a summit meeting—staff and no leaks," the aide said.

Signals Heard From Lost Ship Set for Destruction

KODIAK (UPI) — Navy sonarmen detected blips on their scopes Friday from what is believed to be an explosives-laden ship submerged 3,000 feet 17 miles off the Aleutian chain in the North Pacific.

The World War II Liberty Ship, supposed to sink and detonate in another area as part of a scientific experiment, was lost in an Aleutian fog Thursday after Navy efforts to sink it had failed 34 miles off Amchitka Island.

The Advance Research

Congress' Views Vary on U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate committees took opposite paths Friday on whether to limit the number of countries which can receive U.S. foreign aid funds.

The House Foreign Affairs unit, in a path favored by the Johnson administration, removed restrictions on nations getting economic as well as military assistance.

But the Senate Foreign Relations Committee wrote in specific limits on the number getting economic aid and sharply cut the monetary authorization for military assistance. It said the shadow of the Vietnam war is too long to permit continuation of foreign aid on a business-as-usual basis.

THESE ARE among the sharp differences in the two committees' versions of the controversial proposal as outlined in formal reports made public Friday.

The House committee, in a two-year package, authorized $3.1 billion in the year which started last July 1, and $3.5 billion for the fiscal 1969 period.

However, the Senate unit slashed deeply into the administration's 3.3 billion request, and allocated $2.7 billion for the current fiscal year. Its bill also was limited to one year.

The Senate committee imposed country-limit restrictions on aid funds to prevent what it called "check book diplomacy." It limited development loans to 15 countries, technical assistance to 10 and supporting aid to another 10. The President would have to get a resolution through Congress to enlarge the list.

Bandits Get $70,000 From Armored Car

SKOKIE, Ill. (AP) — The owner-driver of a mobile check cashing service told police he was assaulted and robbed of $70,000 in cash Friday after he parked his armored truck near a hospital where he planned to cash employees' checks.

George Kastritis, 31, owner of the Star Check Cashing Service in Chicago, said two men robbed him in a parking lot behind the Skokie Valley Hospital.

He told police one of the robbers lured him out of the locked truck by saying the vehicle had a flat tire. The man then pushed him back into the truck, forced him to lie on the floor and taped his hands, Kastritis said.

San Diego County Fire Under Control

DESCANSO (UPI) — A fire that charred 310 acres of brush and timber in the Cleveland National Forest in south central San Diego County was controlled Friday by the U.S. Forest Service.

No structures were damaged or threatened. More than 150 men fought the blaze. It was started Sunday when a bolt of lightning struck a tree.

The underwater explosion had been planned as part of a defense seismic experiment backed by the Defense Department. The multi-million dollar project was set up to measure various seismic effects from underwater and underground explosions.

Explosives experts said there was little likelihood of spontaneous detonation, but salt water corrosion could eventually set off the fuse, they said.

'Bullying' IRS Story Defended

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reader's Digest defended Friday the accuracy of an article in this month's issue which Sheldon S. Cohen, internal revenue commissioner, described as insidious.

Associate editor John Barron, author of the article entitled "Tyranny in the Internal Revenue Service," said a 29-page statement issued by IRS contains distortions, irrelevancies, omissions and smears which in some cases he said add up to outright dishonesty.

IRS SAID the article contained too many half truths, distortions and unfounded charges to remain unanswered.

Barron said he wasn't invited to the news conference hurriedly called by Cohen after Cohen testified Thursday before a House appropriations subcommittee.

The Digest article said evidence from all over the country discloses that IRS has bullied, degraded and crushed innocent taxpayers in the name of collecting taxes.

SIXTEEN cases were cited in the article but Barron said the Digest's investigation provided evidence of many more specific abuses. Obviously, he added, all the findings could not be incorporated into the article.

The Digest has received at least 300 letters from taxpayers since publication of the article claiming they, too, have been victims of IRS, Barron added.

He said the accuracy of the story has been exhaustively documented by both the research and legal departments of the Digest.

GRAND OPENING

THE PLAZA

FIESTA GRANDE • THIS WEEKEND!

Join in the fun and happenings this Saturday and Sunday to celebrate the opening of Rancho California's newest landmark—The Plaza. Here's what's happening: MEXICAN RODEO! Ridin', ropin' and rompin' with wild mares and steers. JOSE NIETO GROUP! Hear this popular strolling trio sing and play. Dancers, too. SEÑOR RUSS CLARK Y SUS CHIQUITOS! Watch his puppets sing, dance and cut up. GONZALES! Movie and TV comedian Gonzales Gonzales will provide musical entertainment. VAL DE NUÑEZ! One of the greatest sidewalk caricaturists. He'll do free sketches. Get the whole family into the picture. FIREWORKS! See the rockets' red glare, bombs bursting in air Saturday and Sunday evenings at 8:30 p.m. Fiesta Grande events will be happening all day long on both days. Located in the center of the vast Rancho California development. The Plaza is the perfect place for a fun-day outing in the country. Other things to see and do—just look at the list! See you this weekend? Bien! For directions, follow the map.

EL POCO — If you like Mexican wrought iron and pottery prepare for a bonanza! You'll find hundreds of hand-crafted candelabra, sconces, elaborate wall candleholders, hanging chandeliers plus the most varied selection of pottery in Southern California—glazed and unglazed, hand-painted and plain cooking ware nested bowls and platters, hanging pots and bedding pots in all sizes, shapes and colors. And no one can hold a candle to the collection of them here. All shapes, all sizes, these candles were imported from all over the world. Also distinctive one-of-a-kind handmade jewelry.

EL EMPORIO — In the market for fresh produce? You've come to the right place. Wait until you see the choice assortment of fruits and vegetables. They're grown right here at Rancho California, picked country-fresh. Can't beat that in the city. Watermelon? Honeydew? Canteloupe? Corn? Squash? Name it—and get it at country prices. Ready to tempt you too are jams, jellies, honeys, olives, syrups—all sorts of delectable delights—and all branded with Rancho's own label.

LA FONDITA—Ever had a hamburger topped with guacamole sauce? You can now at La Fondita...for food estilo Mexicano. Or try the Hamburger Ranchero—served with green chili sauce, or a sandwich of Monterey Jack cheese with chili sauce in rolled tortilla. The menu brims with many unusual flavor combinations. Why not plan to picnic under the century-old oaks? Special picnic lunches are ready to go at La Fondita.

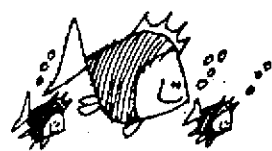

TIENDA DE LOS CABALLOS—Here you'll find everything for the horse and rider. And what a selection! Take boots. Got the largest stock in California, including boots of sea turtle, elephant hide, whale and kangaroo. Boots made to order out of alligator or ostrich skins. Also handmade saddles, English and western tack and saddlery, Indian and western jewelry and a complete line of ranch and western wear.

HORSEBACK RIDING—Like to ride? Bring your own horse or use our Rent-a-Horse service. Then join a riding group and head out into Rancho California country over miles of well-marked equestrian trails. Pony rides, too, for the younger cowpokes.

PLAY CORRAL — Introduce your children to a whole yardful of ranch animals—tame enough to pet—at Rancho's Play Corral. Have them meet the long list of zoo's who: Zsa Zsa, Pancho, Heloise, Harriet, Daisy and Dolly. We have a Hen Pen too. And a huge Hay House, full of secret passageways, where the children can romp. There's everything from cattle chutes to carousels to enjoy.

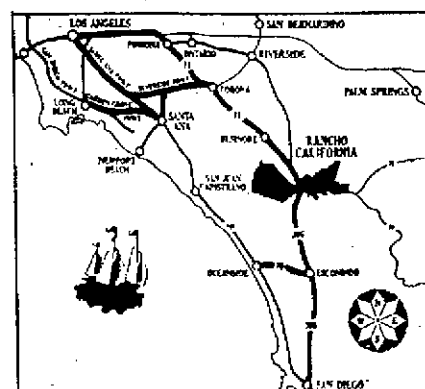

FISHING — The fish are biting in our well-stocked pond and junior can snag bluegills and catfish. Bring a pole or we'll lend you an old-fashioned bamboo one.

LAS RANCHITAS — While you're here, visit Las Ranchitas, a rancho-residential area for country-style living. It's Open House at two new models designed for country living. Ideal for two-car, two-horse families. You'll find these model ranchos unique in many ways—from the graciously appointed Spanish interiors to the spacious, landscaped veranda areas.

HOSPITALITY HACIENDA — Stop in and learn all about Rancho California—the new land of opportunities. Find out for yourself why Rancho California is growing—and why it's the most distinctive development in the nation. Never can tell, after a day in the wide open country you may never want to go home. The Hacienda is open daily from 9 a.m. to dusk. Rancho California is owned by development corporations of Macco Realty Company (a subsidiary of The Pennsylvania Railroad Company), Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corporation and Kaiser Industries Corporation. Exclusive sales agents: Coldwell, Banker & Co., P.O. Box 309, Temecula, California. Call (714) 676-2541. Offices in principal California communities.

Rancho California is 87,500 masterplanned acres of Southern California countryside with large land areas devoted to thoroughbred horse ranches, citrus and avocado groves, row crop farms, vineyards, dairies, field crops and recreation. Other areas developed for rancho home sites, business communities, commercial and light industrial.

3 Die in L.B. Area Traffic; One Waits a Train's Approach

Three persons, including a mental patient who watched unflinchingly as a braking freight train ground slowly toward him, are dead today as the result of Long Beach area vehicular accidents.

Victims were Louis Castro, 1 1/2, of 831 Cedarwood Ave., La Habra; Mrs. Allie J. Garis, 39, of 2137 E. 128th St., Compton, and Arnold Halperin, 42, a Metropolitan State Hospital resident patient.

Halperin was killed instantly on Santa Fe Railway tracks a block from the state hospital, shortly after walking away from its grounds. He was a Culver City resident who entered the facility last January.

The Castro boy was killed in La Mirada Friday morning when thrown from his mother's car, being driven by his 16-year-old aunt, deputies said.

Gloria Castro, the driver; Mary Castro, the boy's mother, and a cousin, Glen Poulain, 6, who lives at the Castro home, were injured in the accident.

The Castro car collided with a left-turning vehicle driven by Maria L. Baumeister, 42, of 15255 Manzaneros Ave., La Mirada, at the intersection of Jalón Drive and Rosemeads Avenue. Mrs. Baumeister was also hurt.

The Garis woman died Friday in Harbor General Hospital of injuries suffered when struck by a car in the 1700 block of Wilmington Avenue in Compton late Thursday.

According to police, a car struck the woman, who was then hit by a second auto, whose driver, Patrick Jones, 21, of 917 S. Caswell Ave., Compton, was arrested on suspicion of hit-and-run.

L.B. BIDS TO ANNEX 15-ACRE 'ISLAND'

Application by Long Beach to annex a 15-acre industrial area, which makes up nearly half of a county "island" in the north part of the city, has been filed with the Local Agency Formation Commission.

The property runs easterly from Cherry Avenue to the Union Pacific Railroad right-of-way, north of the prolongation of Rogers Street.

The remainder of the "island" of unincorporated territory lies to the north as far as South Street. Some property owners in this area also are seeking annexation to Long Beach.

At present, there are no improvements on the property which is proposed for annexation, although the principal property owner has started construction of some buildings to house light industrial operations.

The entire annexation area is zoned M-2 industrial, except for a small portion of the railroad right-of-way, which is zoned M-1 semi-industrial.

The Local Agency Formation Commission is expected to schedule a hearing on the application in early September.

Boom-Booms Won't Deter Sonic Flight Era—Jet Pilot

By LEE CRAIG
Aerospace Editor

The world's fastest jet pilot doesn't believe that the era of the supersonic transport can be stayed by the sonic boom problem.

"It may be necessary to water routes," Air Force restrict SST flights to over-Col. Robert L. Stevens said Friday, following a presentation before some 250 teachers attending the Aerospace Education Summer Session at California State College at Long Beach.

"However, through advanced technology, which will lessen the impact of booms, plus flight routes over other than densely-populated areas, objections to the SST will be minimized," he said.

Another major factor, Stevens added, will be acceptance of the noise by the public through repetition and familiarity with its cause; to the extent that it will create no more discomfort or alarm than a thunderclap does today.

Stevens can speak with authority on the subject, as one of a comparative handful of pilots who have logged nearly 100 hours at speeds three times that of sound.

On May 1, 1965, at Edwards Air Force Base in California, he established four of nine new world speed and altitude records in the Lockheed-built, delta wing YF12A, with Col. Daniel Andre flying as his fire control-systems operator.

They averaged 2,071.1 miles per hour over a 15-mile straightaway course in opposite direction runs, then held 80,257 feet to establish a new world absolute record for sustained horizontal flight. These marks topped marks previously held by Soviet Union aircraft.

Col. Stevens' present assignment is as test force director for the YF12A and its reconnaissance version, the SR-71. He has been chosen for work later in the SST program.

RESIDENTS ACCUSE OFFICER

Police Probe 'Brutality' Charge

Five persons who say they saw a pre-arrest struggle between a Central District youth and a Long Beach police officer were interviewed Friday by the police Community Relations Bureau.

Fifteen Central District residents had come to police headquarters earlier to accuse Officer Eugene R. Ehmann, 24, of "police brutality."

Ehmann used his nightstick to subdue Freddie L. Harris, 20, of 1202 Lime Ave., after arriving at Pacific Coast Highway and California Avenue Friday at 2 a.m. to investigate a ringing burglar alarm.

Ehmann said Harris, booked on suspicion of battery on a police officer and intoxication, resisted violently when he tried to arrest him and place him in a police car.

The officer sustained scrapes and bruises in the struggle.

Harris, still in jail late Friday, was treated in St. Mary's Hospital for a cut over an eye before he was jailed.

The Central District residents who protested at the police station an hour after the arrest told Watch Lt. Robert V. Hill that witnesses reported undue force had been used subduing Harris.

Lt. John Cowan of the Community Relations Bureau said an investigation of the incident is in progress.

War Vets Honor Playwright John Ford at L.B. Fete

An award banquet Tuesday night honoring famed movie director John Ford will be among highlights of the 35th national convention of the Military Order of the Purple Heart to be held in Long Beach Sunday through Friday.

Ford, a retired Naval Reserve rear admiral, will receive the Washington Medal of Merit, the order's highest award, during a ceremony at the Chandelier Room of Long Beach Arena at 7:30 p.m. the award will be presented by National commander John H. Burgess.

The honor is in tribute to the Oscar-winning director's services to the MOPH, going back to his only stage production, "What Price Glory?" in 1949.

A limited number of reservations are available for the general public at the convention registration desk in the Lafayette Hotel, or from Cliff Parmenter, general convention chairman, by telephone at 429-4897 or 425-2310.

JOHN FORD, USNR

Ford, himself a Purple Heart holder, produced the 1949 "Glory" play in Long Beach and other California centers as a benefit for the order and assembled a great cast of "name" actors who donated their services.

All surviving members of the cast have been invited to the banquet.

$300 Items Stolen

A hi-fi unit, money and appliances worth $300 were stolen from the home of Emory L. Walck, 1616 Linden Ave., Long Beach police reported Friday. Officers said a prowler entered through an open window.

Home Ransacked

Burglars who ransacked the home of Nori Gardiner, 665 Coronado Ave., stole $30 in cash, Long Beach police said Friday.

Regatta, Aerobatics to Open Sea Festival Before 100,000

The California International Sea Festival opens in Long Beach today with a seven-hour rowing regatta in Marine Stadium.

Kayaks, canoes, racing shells and lifesaving dories will race, starting at 9 a.m. An outrigger crew manned by an all-woman crew will enter one of the events.

More than 100,000 persons are expected to line the bluff between Junipero and Alamitos avenues to witness the twilight portion of today's festival-launching activities.

Sky divers will do aerobatic stunts. World War I planes will zoom overhead. Stunt pilots will maneuver a few feet above the water.

Decorated yachts, commercial boats and Navy captains' gigs will pass in review against a backdrop of lighted Navy fighting ships.

THE GOOD SHIP Lollipop, a 40-foot sloop owned by Bob Pierce, will probably be the gaudiest of the seagoing floats.

Pierce, commodore of the Southern California Yachting Association, has draped his craft with lights, candy canes and giant lollipops.

It is equipped with an electric organ — expected to make it the most ear-shattering, as well as the most eye-popping float in the parade.

Dennis Safren, movie and television actor, will participate in the parade.

The 5:30-9:30 p.m. show will climax with a shoreline barrage of skyrockets and other fireworks, but the most spectacular event will probably be kite-skiing.

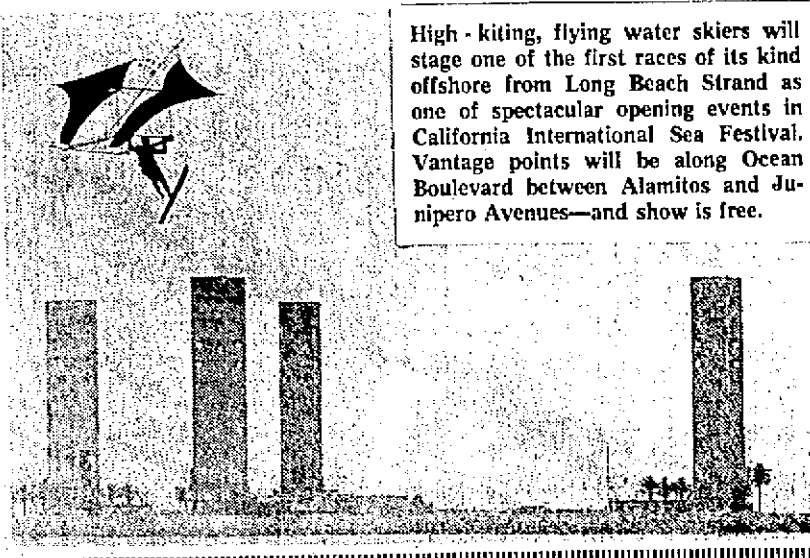

Men will run to their skis, then race behind powerful speed boats while suspended from kites.

THE ENTIRE SHOW is free to the public.

The Independent, Press-Telegram Fishing Derby also begins today. Most of the derby activities will come later this week.

The nine-day, second annual festival will feature a speedboat regatta and a 60-mile Long Beach to Catalina ski race Sunday, the Hennessy Cup race Tuesday, a sailboat race Thursday and Friday and the multi-hull championships, international sabot regatta, national drag boat championships and aquatic meet next Saturday and Sunday.

Fishermen in the I, P-T Derby have until three weeks after the festival closes to weigh in their catches for the $5,000 in prize money.

High-kiting, flying water skiers will stage one of the first races of its kind offshore from Long Beach Strand as one of spectacular opening events in California International Sea Festival. Vantage points will be along Ocean Boulevard between Alamitos and Junipero Avenues—and show is free.

8 FORCES PATROL CITY

Torrance Police to Officer's Rites

Police from eight South Bay cities will patrol Torrance Monday morning while the entire Torrance force attends the funeral of slain Officer David Seibert.

The service will be at 10 a.m. in the chapel of A. M. Gamby Mortuary in Lomita. Burial will be in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Seibert was gunned down in a Torrance market Thursday when he answered a silent alarm alone. He walked into the store, and the robber stood up behind a checkstand, and fired three shots into his chest, right arm and right hip.

Police in 11 Western states and Mexico are looking for Seibert's slayer, believed to be Jerry Lee O'Brien, a 34-year-old narcotics addict, who escaped from Tulare County prison road camp June 25. He is probably accompanied by another ex-convict, Bartholomew Blackburn, 35, officials said.

Police say O'Brien is also a suspect in the $3,000 holdup of Hardy's Market in North Hollywood June 29. The Thursday robbery, at the Food's Co. Market, 17500 Crenshaw Blvd., netted $15,000.

Officer Seibert, a native of San Francisco, had been with the Torrance force since April 1965. He and his wife of five years were in the process of adopting a child, friends said.

State Group Weighing Queen Mary Purchase

The State Lands Commission will discuss the legality of Long Beach's Queen Mary purchase Monday — three days before the city has to make a $345,000 down payment on the luxury liner.

City Manager John R. Mansell said the city requested the special meeting because "we didn't want to lay out any money until we knew the commission would have no objections."

The commission's next scheduled meeting is Aug. 21. Long Beach agreed to pay 10 per cent of the $3.45 million purchase price Aug. 17, with the balance when the ship is picked up in October.

Because the ship is being bought — and will be refurbished — with tidelands oil revenue, the commission must approve the expenditure.

Mansell, who will attend the Monday meeting, said he is "absolutely certain" the purchase is legal.

"We consulted our city attorney before we made the deal," he said.

Two of City Attorney Leonard Putnam's assistants, Deputy City Attorney Robert Parkin and Assistant City Attorney Malcolm Uptegraff, will accompany Mansell to Sacramento for the commission session.

The State Legislature originally limited tidelands expenditures to maintenance of harbor facilities and promotion of navigation, fisheries and commerce. Legislation was later written to permit development of a maritime museum.

Long Beach plans to convert the Queen Mary to a maritime museum and hotel-convention center.

Frank Hortig, executive officer of the lands commission, said earlier this week the commission wanted to know what percentage of the ship would be used for the museum.

MISSILE SHIP TO BE OPEN FOR PUBLIC

The guided missile frigate USS Sterett, just four months old, will be open for visitors this weekend at Long Beach Naval Station's Pier 16.

Hours are 1 to 4 p.m. today and Sunday. Women visitors are requested to wear flat shoes.

Sterett, commanded by Capt. E. A. Christofferson, Jr., arrived in Long Beach on July 28.

Tapes, Stereo Taken

A thief stole a stereo tape player and 18 tapes from an auto owned by Rick Knight, 921 Silva St., while the car was parked on Artesia Blvd., near Walnut Street, Long Beach police reported Friday.

$400 Motor Stolen

A $400 outboard motor was stolen from Stan Miller's Sailboat Co., 245 Marina Drive, Long Beach police said Friday. The motor had been left in front of the building.

SERIES TO EXPLORE KIRSCHKE DRAMA

A three-part series backgrounding the lives of the people in the Jack Kirschke murder case starts Sunday in The Independent, Press-Telegram.

Kirschke, a deputy district attorney, is accused of murdering his wife, Elaine, and her male friend, Orville William Drankhan. Kirschke's trial begins next week.

All most a month in preparation, the series has been written by prize-winning reporter Bill Hazlett.

Another series, "The Great Pension Mirage," a six-part, also will start in Sunday's Independent, Press-Telegram.

OFF TO CAMP THEY GO

The first contingent of 70 youngsters from the Long Beach's central district leave for Camp Tahquitz in the San Bernardino Mountains for two days of hiking, swimming and sleeping under the stars — a "first" for many. Their trip was made possible by an $800 allocation from the City Council. A second group of boys will get their chance to camp Aug. 18-19.

WEEK'S TRANSACTIONS

Friday's Quotations

Week's Wall Street Trend

By ED MORSE

AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A yellow caution light was blinking on Wall Street last week as the market backed off from its recent peak and the exchanges cut trading hours so that brokerage firms could catch up with a backlog of paper work.

Even as the week began there was uneasiness because in the previous week the market had surged to new highs for 1945 on record volume, but was damped late in the week by President Johnson's request for a 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes.

Then, on Tuesday the major exchanges put into effect four-hour trading sessions instead of the usual 5½ hours so that member firms could clean up their clerical work which had led to considerable confusion.

The shorter days were in effect for every day except Monday and as the week neared its end it was decided to continue the abbreviated sessions all of the next week as well.

The shortened sessions did have the effect of cutting volume to 46,507,220 shares for the week compared with the record 60,769,050 shares of the previous week.

So great was the interest in the market, however, that on Wednesday volume soared to 10.1 million shares, well above the record-breaking average of 9.9 million shares for the first seven months of this year — based on full, 5½-hour trading days.

Great activity by the so-called "performance" mutual funds and other institutional investors which are adopting more and more of a trading attitude rather than an investment attitude was cited as a reason for the heavy trading.

Wall Street sources said that these funds were taking profits on a wide range of glamor stocks and others which have piled up big gains. Then they were switching to blue chips or other more stable issues more closely linked with the business cycle.

A general confidence in a rising economy was spurred by Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler who on Wednesday said that the danger of recession is past and the outlook is for economic expansion. He said this, however, in connection with a plea for adoption of the proposed 10 per cent surtax on incomes.

The question of the actual amount and timing of the tax boost, as it will be enacted by Congress, was a subject for underlying concern.

The Dow Jones industrial average last week lost 3.12 at 820.65.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks last week fell 1.3 to 340.3.

Of 1,597 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 621 rose and 835 fell.

With Paul, Webber, Jackson & Curtis

This week's daily intraday highs have come to grief along 930-933. As so often happens, technical strength tends to exhaust itself after cracking an important point. Some technical indicators are well in overbought territory, expanding volume has not accompanied the breakout and, obviously, the 940-950 level presents some problems. From an immediate standpoint, support and resistance levels are well defined—930-933 topside and 908 downside. Below 933 there is quite a shelf of support. Long 877-895 held daily for seven sessions.

As for the stock market in previous letters, the following appear to have promising chart patterns: American General, General Electric, International Minerals & Chemicals, Republic Steel, Youngstown Steel, High Voltage Engineering, Molybdenum, National Video, St. Joseph Lead (especially) and as groups, more copper and oils—international as well as domestic. The two leading cigar stocks appear to be laying a solid and extended base from which substantial moves can be expected some day.

THE historical high in the short interest on the NYSE is a favorable factor. Over the past many years (1966 an exception) there has been a lag of eight to 18 months from the time the stock market peaks—with an average of about 12 months. Before a major bottom is made the short interest in past years is almost always down considerable from its high and the lag from the short interest low to the subsequent stock market low has been around eight months on average.

By the same token, the peak in speculative activity (volume) has almost never marked a final bull market high. For volume (1936 an exception) precedes price by several months. In 1928-29 it was 10 months, in 1936-37 it was 11 months, in 1945 four months, in 1951 eight months, in 1955-56 11 months, in 1958-60 15 months and in 1961 eight months (March-November)—which averages out 10.4 months. In the present phase the monthly peak in volume was recorded in March—224.8 million vs. 216.7 million last month.

Methodists Plan Dissolution of Segregated Bloc

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A troubling problem which the Methodist Church has sought for years to straighten out by direct means — without success — appears headed for solution by an indirect process.

The result will bring the end of a racially segregated bloc within the denomination, after more than a decade of specific legislative moves failed to dislodge it.

"The iceberg," it's called by Leonard Slutz, a Cincinnati, Ohio, attorney and chairman of a church commission on the matter. He says it has been slowly "melting away at the edges" for years.

But the icebreaker that points the finishing blow came by a roundabout way — through regional votes ratifying a merger of the Methodist Church with a smaller sister body, the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

INCLUDED in the constitutional provisions for the new United Methodist Church, whose 11 million members will make it the largest in Protestantism, is a special, unconditional item.

It prescribes the demise of Methodism's nettlesome, long-fought-over, embarrassing system within a system — its racially defined Central Jurisdiction.

This is a separate Negro administrative unit, with Negro bishops overseeing Negro congregations and supervising Negro pulpits and appointments. Territorially, it overlaps the church's several regional, mainly white jurisdictions.

Next week, Aug. 17-19, with its phasing out now required, it holds its final business meeting in Nashville, Tenn., to get ready for termination of its 38-year history.

THAT HAPPENS officially, under the merger terms, in April 1968, when the union of the two denominations formally comes into being.

The color-drawn jurisdiction dates back to 1939, a feature of the agreement by which the Southern and Northern branches of Methodism reunited after being divided since the Civil War.

Drawn-out controversy has accompanied the arrangement, particularly in Methodist General Conventions since 1956.

However, enabling measures for dissolving the separate Negro system have been subject to regional ratification, and this, to a large extent, has not been forthcoming.

Regional votes in the South, in some cases by Negro conferences themselves, have stalled the gradual, bit-by-bit procedures authorized in compromise plans for meshing the administrative machinery, a part at a time.

Nevertheless, in some sections such as Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, regional conferences of the Negro jurisdiction have already left it and been integrated into the mostly white conferences in those areas.

AS A RESULT of such fractional steps, the overlapping Negro jurisdiction has gradually shrunk. In 1964, it included 373,000 Negro members in 16 regional conferences, usually paralleling state lines.

Now, however, it has only about 245,000 members in 12 regional conferences. These cover 13 Southern states. Additional segments may be integrated by the year's end.

Altogether, the approximately 500 Negro congregations compare with about 43,000 in the entire uniting church.

In any case, by next spring, the remaining Negro conferences will be shifted into the church's five regular geographical jurisdictions — and the racially separate jurisdiction abolished.

CHRISTIAN COLLEGE EXPANDS

Pacific Christian College, in early stages of an expansion program to accommodate swelling enrollments, has formed a Department of Development and has purchased property adjacent to the campus.

Professor G. B. Gordon was named director of the new department. He will also serve as vice president of the college, succeeding Harvey Beard, who resigned that office to devote his full time to classroom work as professor of Greek and Old Testament studies.

Use of the new property — a lot with a house and garage at 1312 Park Ave. — is not yet determined. The acquisition is "just one phase of the great expansion program being planned to accommodate the growing enrollment," President Kenneth Stewart said. "Academic expansion is also taking place concurrently with more faculty members being called and a greater course offering being scheduled."

The board of directors, in creating the new Department of Development, said it is the first major change in organization of the college to strengthen the outreach and future growth of the facility, located at 4835 E. Anaheim St.

Activities of the new department will include recruitment, fund-raising, alumni relations, church relations, public relations and internal communications.

In another move, Richard W. Derby Jr. was appointed director of admissions and assistant director of development. He formerly served as assistant to the president, business affairs and finance.

Mrs. Thelma Laster, secretary to the academic dean for the past year, was named acting registrar.

11,000 Jehovah's Witnesses Will Convene in Costa Mesa

The annual Disciple-Making District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses will open next Thursday at the Orange County Fairgrounds in Costa Mesa.

The four-day convention, sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, is expected to draw 11,000 delegates from an area extending from Long Beach to San Diego.

Day and evening sessions are scheduled in the arena and overflow buildings, according to Shield Halvajian, assembly manager.

THE KEYNOTE address will be given at 3:30 p.m. Thursday by F. F. Garrett, district minister of the Watchtower Society. He will also give the principal public lecture of the assembly on the closing day on "Rescuing a Great Crowd of Mankind Out of Armageddon."

A highlight of the assembly will be a mass baptism at 9 a.m. Friday.

Robert H. Lenk, circuit supervisor in Long Beach, said many congregations will have entire families in attendance.

THE PROGRAM, he noted, will include dramatizations of several portions of the Bible, lectures, symposiums and an advanced ministerial training program.

All sessions are free and open to the public.

GOINGS ON

Dr. Paul Gupta, founder and president of the Hindustani Bible Institute of Madras, India, will speak at Westminster Brethren Church, 14614 Magnolia Ave. in Westminster, at 7 p.m. Sunday. Dr. Gupta, a former high caste Hindu, will tell of the progress in theological training and Christian work at the institute since its founding in 1950. Miss Mildred Knapcik, recently returned from the American Lutheran Mission Field, will discuss her 14 years in South Africa at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Our Saviour's Lutheran, 370 Junipero Ave. Jim Lester, Air Force flight engineer back from two years in Vietnam, will be special speaker Sunday morning at the Cypress Church of the Nazarene, 5600 Crescent Ave., Buena Park. Radio and concert artist Joyce Landorf will be featured in a sacred concert at El Dorado Park Community's Service Under the Stars, 7:30 p.m. Sunday, 3655 Norwalk Blvd.

The Southern California Covenant Players will be featured at an open-air vesper service of North Long Beach Methodist at 6:30 p.m. Sunday on the parking lot of the Home-Silk Shop, corner of 56th Street and Linden Avenue. The Players, directed by Charles Tanner, were organized in 1963 as a group dealing exclusively with contemporary Christian drama. The Harmonies of John Brown University will present a repertoire of sacred music at 7 p.m. Sunday at First Brethren, 3601 Linden Ave.

Guest ministers will be filling the pulpits at several churches Sunday. Among them: Rev. Richard L. Brooks, pastor of Paramount Methodist from 1953 to 1959, will return to preach at 9:30 and 11 a.m. services, 16635 Paramount Blvd. Rev. Thomas S. Jorde, former Downey resident and now pastor of Bethel Lutheran Church in Fresno, will deliver the sermon at 9 and 10:30 a.m. services at Trinity Lutheran, 11507 Studebaker Road, Norwalk. Dr. Paul Covey, former president of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church, will be pulpit guest at 9 and 11 a.m. services at Covenant Presbyterian, Third and Atlantic Avenue. Rev. J. Irwin Trotter, district superintendent, will be guest preacher at 9 and 11 a.m. services at First Methodist, 507 Pacific Ave.

First Distaff Sermon Noted

CAMBRIDGE, England (IP)—Dr. Kathleen Gliss, until recently general secretary of the Church of England Board of Education, is the first woman to preach a sermon in the university church of St. Mary the Great, Cambridge. Dr. Bliss, who is 58 and has three daughters, is taking up a post as lecturer in religious studies at Sussex University this fall.

Preacher Commutes 2,400 Miles Weekly

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Rev. Jerry B. Graham travels 2,400 miles each week to deliver his Sunday sermon.

Rev. Graham, a student at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, preaches in a Sterling, Va., church each Sunday. His congregation pays the $135 weekly air fares to allow him to stay in class.

Orthodox Conferees in Accord

Nineteen theologians and church leaders from Christian traditions which have been separated to 1,500 years have agreed that their "theological differences today do not appear to be of such a nature as cannot be overcome with patient study and the growth of mutual understanding."

The study group, representing 10 Oriental and Eastern Orthodox churches, declared in a statement issued at the close of a five-day meeting, that despite centuries of separate development, "the two families of churches seem to have followed a common tradition and the same basic intuitions." Areas examined included the understanding of the church regarding Jesus Christ, worship and spiritual life.

THE GROUP met in connection with the recent meeting of the World Council of Churches' Commission on Faith and Order, in session at Bristol, England, to discuss the teaching of the churches and their denominational and cooperative structures.

A previous exploratory meeting of the Eastern Orthodox and Oriental theologians had been held in connection with the Commission's 1964 meeting in Aarhus, Denmark.

The churches had broken relationships when the Fourth Ecumenical (universal) Council of Chalcedon, 451 A.D., adopted a position on the nature of Christ which was unacceptable to the Oriental churches. These churches have accepted as authoritative only the first three ecumenical councils (Nicea, 325; Constantinople, 381; Ephesus, 431), whereas Eastern Orthodox and most western Christians accept the teaching of seven councils.

CHURCHES represented in the Bristol meeting included: Eastern Orthodox; Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople; the Russian Orthodox Church; the Church of Greece; the Romanian Orthodox Church; the Bulgarian Orthodox Church; and the Russian Orthodox Church of America. Oriental churches: the Coptic Church; the Armenian Apostolic Church; the Ethiopian Orthodox Church; and the Syrian Orthodox Church of India.

Rule Change Asked

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Oregon Methodists have petitioned their church to eliminate "legalistic proscriptions" against drinking and smoking from its disciplinary code.

TO SPEAK SUNDAY

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, well-known Methodist missionary and author, will speak at 8:45 and 11 a.m. services Sunday at Grace Methodist Church, 2325 E. Third St.

Youth Rally to Feature Song Group

A variety of musical talent will be featured at the monthly Dave Wilkerson Youth Rally Monday in Melodyland Theater, opposite Disneyland. Doors open at 6:30 p.m., with admission free.

The program will include the Harmonies of John Brown University, organist Tom Murray and accordionist-singer John Hayden. Choir Director Tom Newman will hold auditions at 5 p.m. for youthful singers interested in joining the Youth Choir in the evening's program.

FOLLOWING the musical program, Dave Wilkerson will interview a former dope addict. The interview will develop the ways in which the addict was reached through Wilkerson's program in the "asphalt jungles" of New York City.

Ralph Wilkerson, pastor of Anaheim's Christian Center Church, will be master of ceremonies.

Luther League Conventions Focus on War

Concern for troops fighting in Vietnam and the danger of atomic war are among the first items of business for 15,000 Luther League members at twin conventions in Seattle and Dallas today through Thursday.

Both conventions open with an afternoon dedication service with military chaplains as speakers. A "litany of remembrance" has been prepared by the Rev. L. David Brown, Minneapolis, youth director of The American Lutheran Church, parent body for the youth organization. Spokesmen for the youth themselves requested that the program deal with war issues.

Decision to place Vietnam first on the convention agenda by dedicating the convention to those who have died there was made by the Luther League's official board.

The litany notes that the world is now under the shadow of the atom in that "we live in . . . knowledge . . . that creation can be destroyed in the flash of one miscalculation."

The convention will pray that "peace may come swiftly" and will memorialize "the Vietnam dead."

Article Reviews Outdoor Church

Long Beach's El Dorado Community Church, 3655 Norwalk Blvd., is among those featured in an article, "Hot New Religious Controversy: the Drive-in Church," in the current issue of The Woman, a digest sized magazine.

Also mentioned is Garden Grove's Valley Community Drive-in Church. Ministers of both churches are quoted on the success of the drive-in worship programs.

Christian Theologians Return to Language of Early Church

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

In their effort to communicate with modern man, Christian theologians are returning to the language of the early church.

They're talking more and more about the Holy Spirit.

And they are discovering that contemporary minds are quite receptive to the original Biblical concept of the Holy Spirit as God-in-action in the everyday world.

The Apostle Paul and other authors of the New Testament had a great deal to say about the Holy Spirit. But they were concerned primarily with the Spirit's activity. It was so real to them that they felt no need of definitions and explanations.

It wasn't until the third and fourth centuries A.D. that church fathers began to enshrine the experience of the Christian community in creedal definitions drawn from the terminology of Greek metaphysics. That was the era in which the Holy Spirit became "the third person of the Trinity"—a concept that has baffled countless generations of catechism classes.

TODAY theology is breaking out of the prison of Greek thought-forms. It also is reacting against the mania for definition which obsessed the church for so many centuries. It is returning to the attitude of the earliest Christians who were willing to live with mystery, and who knew that experiencing God's presence is infinitely more important than trying to explain it in a neat verbal formula.

Thus it is possible for contemporary theology to speak of the Holy Spirit not in confusing trinitarian language but simply as God-here-and-now, God at work in the world, God dwelling within the hearts and minds of men.

This is a congenial approach to a pragmatic generation that thinks in terms of results. And it opens up a whole treasury of Biblical language for use in answering the religious questions that are actually being asked by young people and adults today.

ONE of those questions is: How can I know what to believe—about the meaning of life, my relation to the ultimate, about right and wrong?

The Bible's answer is that the Holy Spirit "will lead you into all truth" if given a chance. The Spirit's guidance is freely available to all who seek it. It is given not through "voices" or "visions" or other external manifestations, but quietly and naturally from the innermost depths of man's own being.

The spirit's guidance may be experienced subjectively as "conscience" or as "intuition." In the former aspect, it undergirds man's moral sense. In the latter, it is the wellspring of man's faith that life does have meaning and purpose.

The Apostle Paul said the indwelling Spirit is the only real basis human beings have for believing that they are creatures of a benevolent God.

"The Spirit that God has given you does not make you a slave and cause you to be afraid," he told the Christians at Rome. "Instead, the Spirit makes you God's sons, and by the Spirit's power we cry to God, 'Father, my Father!'"

"POWER" is a word frequently used by New Testament authors in conjunction with the Holy Spirit. They recognized that man's biggest religious problem is not knowing what is right, but doing what is right in situations where it would be easier, safer or more pleasant to do otherwise. Man on his own is a weak, self-centered creature with a vast capacity for rationalization, according to the Bible. It is only "in the power of the spirit" that man is able to rise above himself and do genuinely good, kind and courageous things.

One of the great insights of the New Testament which modern theology is recovering is that the Holy Spirit cannot be imprisoned in institutions nor manipulated by rites. Although the church is intended to be the primary locus of the Spirit's activity—"the fellowship of the Holy Spirit" is one of the Biblical synonyms for the church—The Spirit also is constantly at work outside the church, in the hearts and minds of men who do not think of themselves as Christians in any sense, and who may not even believe in God.

Sometimes, and many would say that the present is such a time, the reforming, cleansing, healing power of the Spirit may be manifested more dramatically in moments and events that are not specifically religious than within the life of the institutional church itself.

Note for a TV column: Advertisement in a magazine showing man reading "Fu Manchu." Caption reads, "They may not be reading Shakespeare, but at least they're reading." Sponsor of ad is TIT. This is the firm which is proposing merger with American Broadcasting Co. Obvious caption after it becomes ABC-TIT — if it does: "They may not be watching anything good on our network, but at least they're watching."

KTTV, channel 11, is in the midst of a 19-hour "Job A-thon" scheduled to continue until 6 tonight.

Louis Lomax and Les Crane are among the masters of ceremonies.

Business executives watching the program are asked to call the station and list their qualifications. Participating civic organizations furnish help to match up the applicants with jobs.

It's a job that the California State Employment Office and want ads are doing — but less dramatically. The idea is sound and it does have the quality of focusing on the problem — joblessness — which is one of the basic causes of unrest.

Its success will be not in the dramatization, but in just how many jobs can be created and filled in this way.

ULTRAHIGH — frequency channel 40 is scheduled to go color Monday at 4:30 p.m., with its program

"Travelogic." Other programs during next week will be aired in color with a total of 11 shows in color by Aug. 21. KXLA is the first of the UHF stations to go color... Merv Griffin's show, starting Aug. 31, also goes color on KTTV, channel 11.

PERRY MASON buffs, arise! The Four Tops a taped show, tonight preempts Mason, Street, Drake & Co. Channel 13 doesn't have a heck of a lot to offer beside travel shows and as far as we're concerned its only reason for existing is bringing back old Perry Mason shows; but the station keeps preempting the program for "specials" of a sort. Why don't they knock off a couple of travelogs for their "specials" and leave Mason alone?

'Who's Calling Signals?' Pros Asking Selves

By United Press International

The St. Louis Cardinals weren't really left out in the cold Friday when it was announced that star quarterback Charley Johnson would have to begin two years of active duty in the Army.

In fact the Cards are just getting into the swing of things.

St. Louis is just one of several teams heatedly engaged in the quarterback shuffle for tonight's eight-game pro football schedule, blessed with three experienced quarterbacks.

RARE INDEED for an expansion team — will be the Cardinals' opponent in Shreveport, La. and the National Football League's newest entry is quickly becoming experienced in spinning the quarterback merry-go-round.

Saints' coach Tom Fears came to camp with the Giants' Gary Wood, the 49ers' Bill Kilmer and the Colts' Gary Cuozzo, with his mind all made up that Cuozzo would be the starting signal caller. But Kilmer looked good enough last week against the Rams to get the starting assignment against the Cards and Fears says he will use only one other quarterback in the game and that might be Wood.

The Cardinals are now left with rookie Tim Van Galder from Iowa State, whose trademark is the long bomb, and almost-rookie Jim Hart of Southern Illinois who has thrown a grand total of 11 passes in the NFL — all against the Cleveland Browns in the 1966 finale.

The Minnesota Vikings will be rotating three quarterbacks at Tulsa, against the Philadelphia Eagles. Rob Berry, Ron Vanderkelen and John Hankinson are all trying to impress new head coach Bud Grant that they have the stuff to fill the shoes of departed all-pro Fran Tarkenton. The Eagles will have King Hill and only King Hill lining up over center, but only because Norm Snead is putting in a couple of weeks in the Army.

Both the Oakland Raiders and New York Giants had their quarterback problems settled by mid-winter trades. The Raiders obtained Daryle Lamonica from the Buffalo Bills and the former Notre Dame standout will start against the visiting Houston Oilers after hooking up with tight end Billy Cannon for several stunning completions in the Raiders' triumph over San Diego last week. The Oilers themselves will go with a new man in Don Trull who set several collegiate records at Baylor before taking a spot on the Houston bench to await the retirement of George Blanda, who finally called it quits this winter.

The Giants have made 1966 starter Earl Morrall into a backup man now that Tarkenton has arrived. The shifty scrambler from Georgia will get his first chance to show his new mates what he can do this afternoon in Ithaca, N.Y., when the Giants face the Falcons and Randy Johnson, the only starting signal caller Atlanta has ever known.

MIAMI HAS gotten rookie quarterback Bob Griese back from the College All-Stars just in time to join John Stofa and Jon Brittenum in the fight for the Dolphins' starting job. All three may see action when the San Diego Chargers and their unchallenged No. 1 Man John Hadl come to town.

Today's two remaining games present slightly more coherent situations. Bart Starr and the Green Bay Packers will host the Pittsburgh Steelers who again have Bill Nelson at quarterback after a knee injury that sidelined him throughout much of last season and the Don Meredith-led Dallas Cowboys take on the Roman Gabriel and the Rams in the Coliseum.

SPORTS BEAT

An attendant at the $5 window at River Downs Race Track in Cincinnati got stuck for two win tickets on a longshot Thursday when a person requested the horse's number then didn't have the $10.

So what happens, the longshot — Maiden Gal — won and paid $177.20 for $2.

UPWARDS of 5,000 Panamanians are flying into New York for Wednesday's world lightweight title fight between Carlos Ortiz and Ismael Laguna of Panama in Shea Stadium next Wednesday.

Leary wrote Edwin Dooley, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission: "I find it difficult to understand why these bouts have been authorized by the commission for this summer date."

His letter was in response to a letter from Dooley asking extra police protection for the fight because "the history of Laguna's followers indicate that sometimes they invoke a violent reaction on the part of his followers."

In the last 21 months, three riots have been staged at the indoor Madison Square Garden after Puerto Rican fighters lost decisions.

Thousands of New York's Puerto Rican residents are expected to turn out for the fight to cheer Ortiz, the lightweight champion, and Frankie Narvaez, who fights in a preliminary contest on the card in outdoor Shea Stadium.

In addition, some 2,000 Panamanians are making the trip to root for Laguna.

"In view of the dangers inherent in these contests cited in your letter and our experience with recent local disorders, I find it difficult to understand why these bouts have been authorized by the commission for this summer date."

KENYAN Kipchoge Keino seeks revenge against world record holder Jim Ryun today in a track meet between Great Britain and the United States.

Keino was soundly beaten at 1,500 meters last month when Ryun set a world record of 3:33.1.

PAUSE THAT REFRESHES

Douglas Sanders takes time from rigors of American Golf Classic in Akron, O., Friday to give one of fans, eight-year-old Billy Clark, lift to water fountain. Sanders' two-day total is 141, seven strokes behind leader Rex Baxter.

Baxter Overcomes Bogeys, Leads Golf

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Rex Baxter Jr., wriggling free from the disaster of two double bogeys, fired a second straight subpar round Friday to retain the lead in the $100,000 American Golf Classic.

The 31-year-old Texan, who has only one tournament victory in his 10 years as a pro, shot a 31-36—68 Friday for a two-day total of 134, six strokes under the demanding par of 35-35—70 at the Firestone Country Club.

Wade Draws Billie Jean for Opener

CLEVELAND (AP) — Virginia Wade, Great Britain's No. 2 woman tennis player, will meet top-ranked Billie Jean King of Long Beach in the opening round of the Wightman Cup tennis matches at Cleveland's Harold T. Clark Stadium today.

Miss Wade's was the first name selected in the draw Friday for the 38th renewal of the international competition.

Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., will meet southpaw Ann Jones, the first-ranked British player, in the other opening-day match.

Picking up six birdies to go with his two double bogeys, Baxter found himself two strokes ahead of Jack McGowan and three in front of awakening Arnold Palmer.

McGowan whipped up a 35-32—67 to go along with his opening 69 and Palmer, who settled for a par 70 Thursday, scrambled to a 35-32—67 and a 137 total.

U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, South African Allan Henning and Bobby Nichols were the only other golfers under par after 36 holes in the 72-hole tournament which ends Sunday.

Nicklaus shot a 35-34—69 for a 139, Henning came up with a brilliant 34-32—66, and 139 and Nichols had a 36-33—69, also for a 139 total.

Disaster then struck as he took a double bogey 6 on 13 and a double bogey 5 on 16.

"I missed getting on in regulation each time and three-putted both holes," said the amiable Baxter.

However, instead of collapsing completely, Baxter dropped a 10-foot birdie putt on the 17th and saved par on No. 18 when he chipped up and sank an eight-footer.

Two World Marks Fall in AAU Swim

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two world records were broken Friday on the first day of competition in the National Amateur Athletic Union's outdoor men's swimming championships.

Defending champion Mark Spitz, the 17-year-old swimmer from the Santa Clara Swim Club, captured the 100-meter butterfly, breaking the world AAU and American record with his 56.7-second time. His clocking at the West Suburban Oak Park Rehm pool, 56.3, which is pending world recognition.

Greg Charlton of the Los Angeles Athletic Club swam the 400-meter freestyle in a world record 4 minutes 9.8 seconds. He topped the existing mark of 4:11.1, but failed to match Spitz' pending mark in the event, 4:08.8.

Defending champion Don Schollander of the Santa Clara Swim Club finished fifth in the 400.

Doug Russell of the Burford (Tex.) Swim Club finished behind Spitz in the 100-meter butterfly in 57.4. Ross Wales of the Princeton (N.J.) SC was third in 57.7. Russell also broke the American and met record of 57.5.

Defending champ Charles Hickox of the Indiana Aquatic Club won the 200-meter backstroke in 2:12.3.

Five Vie in Mack Tourney

By CHUCK MEDICK

Blair Field will be the site of all games of the Connie Mack regional baseball tournament beginning at 2 p.m. today.

There will be five teams competing for the honor of representing the West in the Connie Mack World Series beginning next Friday in Farmington, N.M.

IN TODAY'S opener, Casper, Wyo., will meet Reno, Nev. At 4:30 p.m. host Mel Burns Mustangs will play Santa Clara, Northern California's representative.

The Long Beach Cardinals winners of the Southern California tourney Thursday, will see action Sunday at 2 p.m., meeting the winner of the Mustangs-Santa Clara game.

There will be two games on Sunday, two Monday evening beginning at 7 p.m., a single game Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., with the finals scheduled for Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. If another game is necessary, it will be played Thursday.

Little is known about the personnel of the out-of-town teams. However, Santa Clara comes highly touted as it won a Northern California tournament that included San Francisco, Stockton, San Jose.

RENO is composed of many of the top stars of the Nevada University team. Casper has the pick of the state which to choose from.

The winner of this tournament will join seven other teams from the United States and Canada in Farmington next week.
